Bloomington Wins Varsity Tourney; Madison Takes Reserve, Junior Titles

Bulldogs Edge Jeff Tigers In overtime Thriller Here

Bloomington's Bulldogs today are the basketball champions of Fayette County.

They edged out Jeffersonville Thursday night, 52-50, in an overtime ball game at the Washington C. H. gym that added a cliffhanger ending to a frenzied, chill-packed County basketball tournament and brought them the title.

Don Welsh dropped the ball that did the trick in the final seconds of a two-minute, winner-take-all overtime.

Welsh's ball, tossed from far outside, tottered on the rim for a moment, rolled to the back board—and then tumbled through, sending hundreds of Bloomington fans thundering onto the floor where they charged the team and mobbed the coach for a quarter of an hour.

The Bulldogs had frozen the ball during most of the extra period prior to Welsh's shot. It was only at the very end of the overtime that the slender youth took possession of the ball, looped it over the flailing hands of Jeff's entire team and hit the basket.

MADISON MILLS walked away with all the subsidiary honors at the tourney. The Warrior reserves whipped the Bloomington extras, 47-43, in a last minute surge, while the Madison juniors overcame a similar early deficit to beat the Bulldog juniors, 31-22.

County School Supt. W. J. Hilty presented trophies to Madison Mills and to Bloomington on the floor right after the games. Jeff also got a trophy for sharing the regular-season championship with Bloomington. The Bulldog's Don Hidy got a badge for the best foul-shooting performance of the season.

THE GAME that made all the difference for Bloomington—and for Jeffersonville—started oddly. Jeff scored the first four points on two quick baskets. Tiger fans started hoping the game was sewed up then and there.

But then Bloomington went ahead and scored 19 points in a row, without giving the Tigers a chance.

And then, with the Bulldogs in front, 19-4, Jeff bounced back and ran up a string of 17 before they let Bloomington through for a tally.

Finally, with the half almost over, Jeff went out in front, 23-22. It was obvious at intermission that it was anybody's game.

In the third period, both teams settled down and started playing basketball. The score saw-sawed back and forth, the fans began to gnash their teeth and the suspense began to climb. At the end of the third period, Bloomington held a razor-thin, one-point margin.

Starting the fourth frame, Jeff pushed through several quick baskets for what looked like the makings of another tournament victory.

But the Bulldogs wouldn't quit. They caught up with Jeff with about a minute to go, and the two teams saw-sawed their way into a 50-50 tie as the buzzer sounded above the din made by the howling crowd.

Big Crowds Take Advantage of Dollar Days

The business district of Washington C. H. was crowded with people Friday morning—apparently all taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the 36 stores co-operating in the two Dollar Days on Friday and Saturday.

There was a holiday atmosphere everywhere. Flags lined the streets at the sidewalk edges in recognition of Washington's birthday. Schools were closed for the day and young people mingled with the shoppers on the streets and in the stores.

There was a special morning matinee at the Fayette Theater and many a mother left her small fry there while she went bargain hunting.

The City Hall, the Courthouse offices and banks were closed for the national holiday and the usual curtailed service schedule was in effect at the postoffice. Even the parking meters were on a holiday.

BUT IT WAS the Dollar Day enthusiasm among the people that made the difference. They had read the advertisements of the Dollar Day specials offered by the 36 participating places of business and were out early to take advantage of the money-saving offers.

Retail stores felt the first impact of the shoppers. Several of them reported that there were crowds of from 25 to 75 waiting on the streets for the doors to open at 9 o'clock.

While inroads were made in stocks Friday, most of them said there was plenty left for Saturday, the second and last day of the event, despite swarms of buyers the first day.

Police Bullets Kill Unidentified Burglar

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shot four times by a policeman, an unidentified man of about 40 died early today in a local hospital, a few hours after he was trapped in an apartment here.

Patrolman Robert DeFratis fired six bullets at the man who tried to run instead of obeying a command to halt. One bullet hit him in the stomach, two in the back and a fourth in the jaw.

Because there had been a series of four burglaries at homes in that neighborhood while residents were attending funerals, police set a trap Thursday for the man in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrazza, 63, who was at a funeral home wake for her husband.

Western Wilds Hide Secret of Berserk Rocket

New Mexico Crew Loses Control of Military 'Matador'

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The location of the remnants of an errant military rocket apparently may remain locked unknown in the high Rockies of Colorado or the Colored Desert of Utah.

Thursday the 39½ feet long Matador escaped remote controls operated from Holloman Air Development Center. Officials said it had about an hour's fuel left.

They said they believe it soared northwestward over five-sixths of New Mexico and probably landed in southwestern Colorado or southeastern Utah. The region is sparsely populated, a land where industry is based on ranching, mining, logging, natural gas and oil.

The Air Force planned to give up its search Friday morning for the big missile, which has a wingspan of 27.9 feet, a ceiling of more than 35,000 feet and a speed in excess of 650 m.p.h.

Spokesmen for the Air Force said the search would be abandoned because continuation "would cost more than the missile is worth." They said it did not carry an explosive warhead and was equipped only with instruments.

EIGHT MINUTES after the firing at this test center deep in southern New Mexico, the ground-to-ground guided missile which is used as a tactical weapon, ran wild.

Military jets in New Mexico and Utah were sent up to try to find the pilotless missile. The search was in vain.

There were reports from individuals in southwestern Utah and in northeastern Utah that the electronically controlled missile, capable of carrying either conventional or atomic warheads, had been spotted.

Then a report of an explosion 60 miles northeast of Rock Springs, Wyo., set off a search in that area—650 miles from Holloman. A Ground Observer Corps spokesman at Casper, Wyo., said a check indicated the report stemmed from a dynamite blast set off by a seismograph crew looking for oil.

Oil Firms Set U. S. Policy?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today papers subpoenaed from the files of major oil companies "show clearly that they have an important effect on the policies of the United States" in the Middle East.

O'Mahoney reported that one of the papers reveals that Secretary of State Dulles had a secret meeting with executives of the international oil firms last August when the Middle East crisis was starting to boil.

He said the meeting was just before Dulles went to an urgent London conference called because of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal in July.

"The papers in the possession of the subcommittee show that these major oil companies have their inside track in consulting and in knowing what our governments are going to do in this area," O'Mahoney said.

"They show that the companies have more information than the Congress of the United States about our policies in the Middle East."

O'Mahoney heads an investigation by two Senate subcommittees of recent oil price rises and the effort to supply petroleum products to Western Europe.

U. S. OKs Added Talks with Israel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today the United States will agree to Israel's request for further talks on withdrawing her troops, but meanwhile will not seek to delay U. N. pressures against her.

Israel rejected Thursday President Eisenhower's newest appeal that she withdraw her troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area, still contending she must have prior guarantees against Egyptian attack.

But Premier David Ben-Gurion added, "We hope the door is not closed to further discussions," and said his government would "make a further effort to reach an understanding with the U. S."

There was evident disappointment in Washington but not much surprise, at Ben-Gurion's rebuff to Eisenhower's public appeal of Wednesday night. Officially, however, the United States withheld its reaction pending a detailed study of Ben-Gurion's declaration to the Israeli parliament.

ACTUALLY Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were awaiting a new message from Ben-Gurion in response to Eisenhower's latest personal appeal, also made Wednesday.

The Ben-Gurion reply apparently is being brought back by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, who is expected sometime Saturday.

Jerusalem reports said Eban was carrying new instructions for talks with U. S. leaders.

In the circumstances Eisenhower and Dulles were described as reluctant to accept the Premier's parliamentary statement as the last word on his position.

They thought he may have sent by Eban some modifications which would in some manner change the situation.

But Ben-Gurion strongly reaffirmed in his speech the policy that Israeli troops cannot be withdrawn from Egyptian territory bordering the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba or from the Gaza Strip until Israel's interests in the gulf strip are guaranteed.

On these fundamental points what Ben-Gurion said clashed head on with what Eisenhower had said Wednesday night. The President asserted that Israel must get its troops out of both places "without guarantees."

Israeli Solons Holding Firm

Withdrawal Hints Bringing Protest

JERUSALEM (AP)—Minority party leaders of both sides of the political fence united today in demanding that Israel keep her troops in the Gaza Strip and along the coast of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Speaking in the Israeli Knesset (parliament), they rejected the latest conditions laid down by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion for Israeli withdrawal behind the armistice lines.

Ben-Gurion told the Knesset Thursday night Israel would order her last invasion forces home in U. N. troops were stationed on the Aqaba coast and Egypt is barred from Gaza. The prime minister rejected President Eisenhower's latest appeal for an immediate withdrawal but said Israel wanted more negotiations with the United States and the U. N.

Yigal Alon, a former general in the Israeli army, announced his Achdut Avoda party would quit the government coalition if there were further withdrawals.

"WE WON'T surrender to this conspiracy of the United States and Arab states which are owners of Middle East oil fields," Alon declared.

He asserted internationalization of Gaza would only be a danger to Israel's security, while Israel's struggle for freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba is a struggle for our very existence and independence.

From the opposition side, Jacob Meridor of the Herut (freedom) party said the Israeli people are "united in saying 'No' in capital letters" to a further withdrawal.

Meridor said the "threat of sanctions won't frighten us," that if invoked they might prove a blessing by bringing real austerity and economic independence.

Port Columbus Building Gets OK

COLUMBUS (AP)—A grant of $1,870,000 for construction of a new terminal building at Port Columbus airport has been authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, city officials say.

The city will also contribute to the construction costs from a $3,975,000 airport bond fund approved here Sept. 1.

Israel Faces U.N. Punishment

Asia-African Group Hopes for U. S. Backing

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Arab bloc in the United Nations planned to ask the U. N. Assembly today to clamp crippling economic and military sanctions on Israel.

The 27-nation Asian-African group was expected to bring the sanctions demand before the General Assembly this afternoon, then wait for the United States to declare its position.

Leaders of the group held last-minute conferences on the precise wording of the resolution. Basically it reportedly would call on U. N. members to refrain from giving financial, economic or military aid to Israel because of her refusal to pull out of the Gaza Strip and the Egyptian coast on the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Arab move was spurred by Israel's refusal to comply with President Eisenhower's latest appeal to pull back behind the 1949 armistice lines.

PREMIER DAVID Ben-Gurion told Israel's parliament, however, his government is seeking further negotiations to reach an understanding with the United Nations and the United States. Ben-Gurion ordered Ambassador Abba Eban back to Washington to explain his government's position.

Meanwhile, a growing belief that the United States is prepared to give active support to a sanctions move of some sort against Israel threatened to split the Americans and their allies.

Britain has let it be known she does not favor sanctions at this stage but believes the collective wisdom of the United Nations should be able to solve the problem in some more constructive way. Many of the commonwealth countries appear to share this view.

France, which has backed Israel all through the Middle East crisis, makes no secret of her opposition to sanctions. The Scandinavians also were opposed.

Even the Soviet bloc—openly hostile to Israel—opposes sanctions on the legal ground that the Assembly has no authority to take such measures.

The United States, Israel's major source of economic and financial aid, has not said exactly how it stands on sanctions.

Eisenhower in his broadcast this week said the United Nations had no choice but to exert pressure on Israel to withdraw. But he specifically mentioned only "moral pressure" as one of the "types of sanction."

This could mean the United States is ready only to vote a strongly worded condemnation of Israel.

Mother Saves Tot, But She, 3 Others Die

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A young mother thrust her 3-year-old daughter through a window to safety on a porch roof early today just before flames swept an upstairs bedroom, killing the woman, her husband, and their two baby sons.

Dead were Howard O. Hakkarainen, 28; his wife, Carolyn, 24; and their sons, David, 18 months, and Daniel, 2 months.

Escaping death by seconds was 3-year-old Pamela. In childish excitement she told firemen her mother had wrapped her in a blanket and pushed her through a bedroom window onto the roof of a porch.

"Mommy broke the window with her shoe and put me out on the roof, but nobody came after me," Pamela said.

Before any of the others in the family got out they were smothered and burned to death by the fire, which destroyed the interior of the whole apartment. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a downstairs living room, but they didn't know the cause.

39 Employees File Lawsuits against Lima Newspaper

LIMA (AP)—Thirty-nine employees and former employees of the Lima News Thursday filed separate suits in Allen County common pleas court asking $172,195 in severance pay judgments.

The employees, all members of local 166, American Newspaper Guild, in their petitions said severance pay was due them when the News dissolved as a corporation last March 9 to form a partnership.

The petitions said that by dissolving to become a partnership, the News "severed the employer-employee relationship."

The corporation referred to apparently was that of the former owners, the Galvin family, which sold all its interest in the News to the "Freedom Newspapers," a Holmes chain.

Florida Solon Awarded Prize For Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The story of John B. Orr, a Florida state legislator who supported the Supreme Court school desegregation decision, was announced Thursday night as the first prize winner in a contest held by the Fund for the Republic.

Ranked as second place winner was the story about Mrs. Ann Harr and Mrs. Bessie Dick, in Akron, Ohio, "whose efforts on behalf of a refugee from Communist Poland resulted in his being cleared of false charges," the Fund said. The letter writer was Robert Repas of Akron.
It said the two Akron women witnessed police mistreatment of Stanislaw Kiszycki in a bus station, and testified for him in court after he was booked on charges of loitering and resisting arrest.

Top Tulsa Police Officers Named in Liquor Indictment

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones, Tulsa's highest law enforcement officer, the police chief and a prominent newspaper reporter were among 20 persons indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury.
They were accused of conspiracy to violate federal liquor laws by aiding in the importing of taxpaid liquor into constitutionally dry Oklahoma.
The indictment climaxed seven weeks of work by the grand jury, headed by U. S. Atty. B. Hayden Crawford. He said the jurors had returned only a partial report and will meet again next week. More indictments are expected.
In addition to Jones, others named included Police Chief Paul J. Livingston and Nolen Bulloch, veteran Tulsa Tribune general assignment reporter. Six other Police Department members accused in the report were Jack Gott, Leo Jackson, John E. Cole, Jim R. Harp, William T. Peterson and Oliver Stephens.

MAYOR GEORGE E. Norvell immediately suspended Livingston and said the other police officers also would be suspended shortly.

The single true bill listed 30 "overt acts" allegedly performed by the defendants. The report detailed instances where it said money was given to police officers, allegedly for protection against raids or arrests.

Mob Smashes Phone Agency

Adena Exchange Aides Pelted with Bottles

STUEBENVILLE (P) — A mob smashed doors and windows and hurled pop bottles at non-union operators in the Adena exchange of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. Thursday night.

It was the second such raid this week. Tuesday night the Dillonville exchange, four miles from Adena, was knocked out of operation for a day by a mob wielding sledge hammers.

The exchanges have been operated by non-union "supervisory personnel" since the Communications Workers Union struck the company seven months ago.

The sheriff's office said "from eight to 15" men attacked the exchange at Adena, a coal mining village about 18 miles from Stuebenville. Windows and doors of the building had been covered with plywood panels, but the mob blasted the panel off a door with a dynamite cap and battered in the others with logs.

THEY THREW bottles at the "supervisory employee" operators, Stephen Desorbo, New York; William Caudle and Oran Hine, San Angelo, Tex., and Jack Cline, Muskegon, Mich. They left their switchboards for shelter in other parts of the building, but returned to work when the raiders left after about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, in Portsmouth, Judge James W. Lang Jr. of Adams County said today he will sentence 11 telephone strikers in Scioto County next Tuesday.

Judge Lang placed the 11 on $1,000 peace bonds after a hearing last October. The strikers were charged with violating a court injunction by interfering with company employees.

Contempt of court charges against 20 other strikers are being heard in Portsmouth in a hearing conducted by Judge William D. Radcliff of Pickaway County.

Re-Enactment Of Slaving Is Police Request

CANTON, Ohio (P)—Stark County Sheriff Harry W. Grossglus is trying to get Russell McCoy here from Zanesville for a re-enactment of the holdup slaying of two men in the County Line Market Nov. 23.

The 22-year-old McCoy, being held at Zanesville in a double slaying there, has confessed the slaying of Rinaldo Amodio, 30, owner of the grocery at nearby Uniontown, and clerk Paul Cain, 35.

But in his confession McCoy also implicated Dale Bundy, 38, Zanesville factory worker who denies that he took part in the holdup. Bundy is held in jail here. "I will not charge a man until I've definite proof that he has committed an act of violence," Sheriff Grossglus said Thursday.

Bundy was arrested Tuesday in Zanesville, and authorities said he was mentioned by McCoy in his 58-page confession.

Bundy said he was in Stark County with McCoy Nov. 23 but that he was drunk and was not involved in the slayings, according to Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman.

McCoy also has confessed slaying his half-sister, Louise See, and her husband, Lloyd, near Zanesville the night of Feb. 9.

Glamor Girls Urged To Use Vocal Accent

NEW YORK (P) — The well-equipped glamor girl, out to get her man, would do well to develop an accent, says pert Jeannie Carson, who has been doing all right on American TV lately with her crisp Scottish accent.

"Oh, no, I'm not really Scottish," says Jeannie. "My mother was born in Scotland, but I grew up in England."

On the London musical comedy stage, where she is a top star, Jeannie brings down the house with an American Southern accent or an Irish brogue. In America she finds audiences vulnerable to the charm of a Scottish burr or a Cockney turn of speech.

"Accents are a great asset to a girl," says this young actress, who made her first American TV appearance two years ago and now is a regular fixture on the living room screen. "Actually an American Southern accent is much like a British accent, only done with a drawl. Now a Boston accent isn't at all like a British accent, as so many people believe."

"Anyway, if your accent is different from that which is familiar in any region, you're bound to be noticed. It's a thing to remember."

81 Heroic Cons To Get Rewards

NEW YORK (P) — At least 81 Rikers Island Penitentiary inmates who aided victims of the Northeast airliner crash on Feb. 1 will be rewarded with shorter terms.

John C. Maher, chairman of the City Parole Commission, said Thursday his agency is following recommendation by Correction Commissioner Anna M. Kross that the prisoners get time off for their "heroic actions."

The airliner was bound for Florida with 101 persons aboard when it crashed killing 20 persons at the penitentiary island.

India Ready For Talk with U. N. Chieftain

NEW DELHI (P) — An official spokesman said today the Indian government is ready to discuss the Kashmir problem with the U. N. Security Council president.

He emphasized that does not mean India approves of the U.S.-sponsored resolution sending the council president to India and Pakistan.

The council Thursday voted 10-0, with the Soviet Union abstaining, to send its president for February, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, to India to seek a settlement of the Kashmir dispute through "any proposals."

Russia the day before had vetoed another Western proposal to send Jarring to India and Pakistan with the suggestion he investigate the possibility of stationing U. N. troops in Kashmir. India has opposed any U. N. intervention in Kashmir, claiming the Hindu maharajah in 1947 joined the Himalayan state to India.

India and Pakistan have been quarreling since then over which will get the state. Both have troops there and India recently announced the annexation of the richer eastern half.

Prime Minister Nehru, on an election tour in central India, emphasized in a speech Thursday that Jarring would get no agreement to any proposal to replace Indian troops in Kashmir with U. N. forces.

Last Obstacle Removed in Dock Dispute

NORFOLK, Va. (P) — The last obstacle to settling the East Coast dock workers strike was removed early today when Hampton Roads longshoremen and shippers agreed on a new contract.

The agreement in Norfolk came after a lengthy session of nearly 12 hours and followed earlier acceptance in Baltimore of a general wage pattern providing 32 cents an hour wage increase over a three-year span.

Settlement in Hampton Roads had been held up because of several local issues. The two sides finally agreed this morning and David Alston, longshoreman vice president for the port, declared: "I will give the employees their back-to-work orders at 10 o'clock."

In New York, longshoremen said they had been instructed to return to work Saturday.

Failure to reach agreement in Baltimore and Hampton Roads had kept some 45,000 workers in ports from Maine to Virginia away from their jobs after a master contract was ironed out in New York Sunday night.

The contract for Hampton Roads covering longshoremen in Norfolk and Newport News embraces most of the features of the general coastwide agreement.

Hagerty said Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, described the cough as tracheitis — inflammation of the windpipe. He said Eisenhower is using spray to fight it.

Tighter Rest Home Control Being Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Tighter control of nursing and rest homes and updating welfare and workmen's compensation records are some of the immediate goals of Gov. C. William O'Neill's Cabinet.

O'Neill disclosed at the conclusion of his administration's first Cabinet meeting Thursday that Oliver P. Bolton, commerce director, has ordered a re-inspection of all rest and nursing homes that have not complied with past safety orders.

Bolton also ordered Charles Scott, fire marshal, to recommend any necessary changes in the state fire regulations to bring them up to date.

O'Neill said Margaret Ireland, welfare director, has ordered case work on old-age pensions be brought up to date within 30 days.

Chalmers P. Wylie, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation has ordered a similar updating within two weeks.

O'Neill indicated that because of the "good job" the Legislature has "one in the past two sessions" no large scale legislative plan is necessary this year.

O'Neill said also he has ordered all Cabinet members to testify when called upon to do so by legislative committees. But he said he warned them against lobbying or trying to influence legislation by their testimony.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (P) — J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, today was awarded Freedoms Foundation's highest honor "for his resolute leadership against godless communism."

Conjecture Heard about Highway Chief

COLUMBUS (P)—There was conjecture here today about the length of time Ohio's highway chief, Charles M. Noble, plans to spend on the job, but Gov. C. William O'Neill assumes Noble will stay the entire administration.

There were published, but unconfirmed reports that Noble, who came to Ohio from the New Jersey Turnpike Commission, might leave the $30,000 a year job at the end of six months.

Gov. O'Neill, asked about Noble's status today, said: "It is my understanding he plans to be here during our administration." Asked about the matter today, Noble said "There is no conflict between my thinking and the governor's statement. I think the governor's statement is a very good one."

The highway chief cannot carry the title of director of highways until he qualifies as an elector of the state through a year's residence. Meanwhile, he is on the payroll of the governor's office at the $30,000 figure, directing the state's highway program.

Adena Exchange Aides
Pelted with Bottles

STEUBENVILLE (P) — A mob smashed doors and windows and hurled pop bottles at non-union operators in the Adena exchange of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. Thursday night.

It was the second such raid this week. Tuesday night the Dillonvale exchange, four miles from Adena, was knocked out of operation for a day by a mob wielding sledge hammers.

The exchanges have been operated by non-union "supervisory personnel" since the Communications Workers Union struck the company seven months ago.

The sheriff's office said "from eight to 15" men attacked the exchange at Adena, a coal mining village about 18 miles from Steubenville. Windows and doors of the building had been covered with plywood panels, but the mob blasted the panel off a door with a dynamite cap and battered in the others with logs.

THEY THREW bottles at the "supervisory employee" operators, Stephen Desorbo, New York; William Caudle and Oran Hine, San Angelo, Tex., and Jack Cline, Muskegon, Mich. They left their switchboards for shelter in other parts of the building, but returned to work when the raiders left after about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, in Portsmouth, Judge James W. Lang Jr. of Adams County said today he will sentence 11 telephone strikers in Scioto County next Tuesday.

Judge Lang placed the 11 on $1,000 peace bonds after a hearing last October. The strikers were charged with violating a court injunction by interfering with company employees.

Contempt of court charges against 20 other strikers are being heard in Portsmouth in a hearing conducted by Judge William D. Radcliff of Pickaway County.

Re-Enactment Of Slaying Is Police Request

CANTON, Ohio (P) — Stark County Sheriff Harry W. Grossglus is trying to get Russell McCoy here from Zanesville for a re-enactment of the holdup slaying of two men in the County Line Market Nov. 23.

The 22-year-old McCoy, being held at Zanesville in a double slaying there, has confessed the slaying of Rinaldo Amadio, 30, owner of the grocery at nearby Uniontown, and clerk Paul Cain, 35.

But in his confession McCoy also implicated Dale Bundy, 38, Zanesville factory worker who denies that he took part in the holdup. Bundy is held in jail here. "I will not charge a man until I've definite proof that he has committed an act of violence," Sheriff Grossglus said Thursday. Bundy was arrested Tuesday in Zanesville, and authorities said he was mentioned by McCoy in his 58-page confession.

Bundy said he was in Stark County with McCoy Nov. 23 but that he was drunk and was not involved in the slayings, according to Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman.

McCoy also has confessed slaying his half-sister, Louise See, and her husband, Lloyd, near Zanesville the night of Feb. 9.

O'Neill disclosed at the conclusion of his administration's first Cabinet meeting Thursday that Oliver P. Bolton, commerce director, has ordered a re-inspection of all rest and nursing homes that have not complied with past safety orders.

Bolton also ordered Charles Scott, fire marshal, to recommend any necessary changes in the state fire regulations to bring them up to date.

O'Neill said Margaret Ireland, welfare director, has ordered case work on old-age pensions be brought up to date within 30 days. Chalmers P. Wylie, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation has ordered a similar updating within two weeks.

O'Neill indicated that because of the "good job" the Legislature has "one in the past two sessions" no large scale legislative plan is necessary this year.

O'Neill said also he has ordered all Cabinet members to testify when called upon to do so by legislative committees. But he said he warned them against lobbying or trying to influence legislation by their testimony.

Conjecture Heard about Highway Chief

COLUMBUS (P) — There was conjecture here today about the length of time Ohio's highway chief, Charles M. Noble, plans to spend on the job, but Gov. C. William O'Neill assumes Noble will stay the entire administration.

There were published, but unconfirmed reports that Noble, who came to Ohio from the New Jersey Turnpike Commission, might leave the $30,000 a year job at the end of six months.

Gov. O'Neill, asked about Noble's status today, said: "It is my understanding he plans to be here during our administration."

Asked about the matter today, Noble said "There is no conflict between my thinking and the governor's thinking. I think the governor's statement is a very good one."

The highway chief cannot carry the title of director of highways until he qualifies as an elector of the state through a year's residence. Meanwhile, he is on the payroll of the governor's office at the $30,000 figure, directing the state's highway program.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

The old town pump with its iron dipper, which had been used indiscriminately by everyone for many years, passed into oblivion about the time the old Courthouse was torn away from the corner where the Sharp Memorial now stands in 1885.

That pump was chief among the several "town pumps" which were in general use until after the municipal water works afforded a more sanitary supply of fresh water.

The main town pump was located in the sidewalk at the "fountain corner" of the Courthouse lawn, and when the old brick Courthouse stood on the corner, it was a favorite loafing place for citizens generally.

The walls of the Courthouse fronting on both Court and Main Sts. were plastered with sale bills and posters advertising the next attractions at the Opera House on West Market St., along with a wide range of other events.

It was on this corner that the people collected to discuss the gold rush in '49, events of the Civil War; the assassination of Lincoln, and Garfield, and a great variety of other subjects of first importance at the time, including local politics.

A wooden pump was used to bring water from the 30-foot well under the sidewalk, and a small wooden trough drained surplus water into the gutter where it escaped into the sewers.

When the new Courthouse took the place of the old one in 1885 and the old brick structure was torn away, the town pump soon vanished.

Not only was there a public pump with an iron dipper attached to a chain at the "Courthouse Corner", but a similar pump and well with public drinking cup, was located on what is now the "Savings Bank Corner".

A third well, also for convenience of the public, was located under the sidewalk in front of the Midland Grocery Co. property. That well was 20 feet in depth and was dug by J. L. Cubbage.

A fourth well was located in front of the present police headquarters on N. Fayette St., and it had a stone trough for draining surplus water into the gutter.

All of the old town pumps vanished about the same time, and strangely enough the public drinking cup was never condemned even by the physicians.

In those days the prevalence of germs was not so well known, and it was believed to be quite all right to use the public drinking cups.

Perhaps those were the days of real sport—for the germs!

20 YEARS AGO

Dug wells and the reservoir of the Washington Water Co. were thoroughly cleaned as result of surface water entering them during a recent flood.

In 1937 Fayette County had 130 miles of highway in the state system.

There were 620 old age pensioners in Fayette County drawing approximately $14,640 monthly 20 years ago.

The Cherry Hotel with 47 phones had the largest number of telephones of any branch system in the city.

Fayette County hens were producing approximately 12 million eggs each year.

W. H. Hilty was named superintendent of the Fayette County Schools with 92 teachers and 2,400 pupils under his jurisdiction.

W. W. Williams who had been more or less "banker" for Jeffersonville since the banks closed, had traveled an estimated 50,000 miles to and from this city, carrying funds for use in Jeffersonville.

A severe windstorm whipped across Fayette County doing extensive damage.

THOSE STEEL STRIPS

For sometime I have noticed little thin strips of steel, some 10 inches in length, 1-16 of an inch wide and quite thin, which have been along the curb, on sidewalks and on the surface of uptown streets.

As the weeks went by and I continued to see them, I made inquiry, and was informed that the city street sweeper broom is shedding!

The strips of steel are the "straws" in the broom of the sweeper, some of which break loose occasionally, and fall to the pavement.

Aragon's Ring Future Said Very Doubtful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ring officials say Art Aragon's boxing future is "very doubtful" following his conviction on a felony fight-fixing charge.

The 29-year-old Golden Boy was found guilty Thursday of offering another Los Angeles welterweight, Dick Goldstein, $500 to throw a fight scheduled for Dec. 18 at San Antonio, Tex.

The California Athletic Commission said Aragon's 1957 boxing license would not be issued.

After the jury's verdict Thursday, Clayton Frye, secretary of the commission, said that in his opinion Aragon's ring chances were "very doubtful."

Aragon, third - ranking welterweight at the time of his arrest, stared blankly when the verdict was read aloud in the packed courtroom.

He walked stoically from the courtroom as tears welled up in the eyes of his pretty red-haired wife, Georgia. Later he told newsmen: "Honest to God, it isn't so."

Aragon's attorney said that he would file a motion for a new trial March 14, a week before the date set by Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker for proba'o hearing and sentence.

The conviction carries a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison, a maximum fine of $5,000, or both.

Dow Finsterwald, 14th among the professional golfers in money won in 1955, finished second in 1956 with $23,833 won in tournaments.

Leadership Is Topic At Realtor Meeting

The important part real estate men can play in civic affairs was stressed by Herbert Brown, Dayton, vice-president of the Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards, at a meeting of the Tri-County Real Estate Board at Anderson's Drive-In.

A group of 28 board members heard Brown discuss the "valuable leadership" realtors can give in civic affairs.

They should be especially active, Brown said, in matters pertaining to real estate.

Members of the Tri-County Board are realtors, salesmen and associates from Fayette, Highland and Clinton Counties.

A new member, A. H. Gebhart, Hillsboro, was taken into the group.

Pending state and federal legislation was discussed.

The meeting was conducted by Tom Mark, Washington C. H. realtor, president of the group.

An Organization To "Put on the Brakes"

There are several organizations putting forth some valiant efforts to put a stop to what they call "wild - cat spending" by federal government and in some cases by state and local government as well.

One of the most recent of these is one named the "Campaign for the 48 States", which is one among such organizations, that seems to have intelligent and reasonably conservative leadership and apparently is beginning to claim considerable public attention.

Organized less than two years ago by a group of individuals who declared themselves concerned with this country's drift toward serious financial trouble and socialization, it declares itself to be entirely non - partisan and non - political; it has a definite program and definite objectives.

This organization comes by its name because it is particularly campaigning of five constitutional amendments through action of the 48 state legislatures.

The changes thus sought are:

(1) BYRD - BRIDGES AMENDMENT —To require annual budget balancing by limiting congressional expenditures in any fiscal year to the estimated receipts of the government for that fiscal year, except in times of dire emergency to be determined by a three - fourths vote of the Congress.

(2) REED - DIRKSEN AMENDMENT —To eliminate to some extent the heavy progressive rate feature from our income tax system without impairing the power of Congress to raise revenue. This amendment limits the top rate of income taxes, but permits Congress to exceed the limit by a three - fourths vote. It also returns to the individual states the sole right to tax inheritances and gifts.

(3) MUNDT - COUDERT AMENDMENT 8 to reform the electoral college by choosing electors by Congressional districts plus two at large to correspond with each State's two U. S. Senators. This is designed to take away the excessive power now exercised by minority groups in the larger cities under the present electoral college system.

(4) REED - WALTER AMENDMENT— To give to 36 States (three - fourths) full power to amend the Constitution without the intervention of Congress.

(5) BRICKER AMENDMENT — To prevent the overriding of our Constitution and our domestic laws by means of the treaty power.

There is nothing about these five amendments that is unreasonable or impractical. They are not reactionary — they deal with the realities of today and the future and if enacted will go far toward making America safe for tomorrow.

While the "Campaign for the 48 States" is seeking direct action by the Congress, its main effort is being directed to the State legislatures, 41 of which are in session now and five more later on this year. Five television films, each one dramatizing the need for one of the desired amendments, have been prepared and have been made available to television stations, which as a public service are carrying them free of charge.

The organization has as its chairman and guiding genius, Robert B. Snowden, a successful and prominent business man of Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. Snowden points to the recent "hair - curling" statement of Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey as he issued a warning about a requested record peacetime budget of $71 billion. Said Mr. Snowden:

"We believe that our Campaign for the 48 States offers the best means of putting on the brakes on our nation's drift over the past years toward bankruptcy. Our program is gaining support and followers every day because it makes sense — it simply seeks a return to sanity and financial stability in the operation of our federal government. Our system of government in Washington has gotten out of hand for some time and it is never going to regulate itself until the States force it to do so. That is the sole aim of our organization—to gain constitutional reform by action of the State legislatures."

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that Alaska is not only twice the size of Texas but also has an ice cube larger than Rhode Island?

The hunk of ice is the Malaspina Glacier near Cordova.

Alaskans are making a mighty pitch this year to get their territory admitted as the 49th member of the United States.

Here are a few things they think you should know about what they feel is "The land America has forgotten":

That Alaska, whose population increased from 72,524 in 1940 to more than 209,000 today, is growing faster than any state in the Union percentage-wise.

That white settlers from the 48 states outnumber the Eskimos and other native tribes by eight to one.

That Alaska, purchased from Russia for $7.2 million in 1867, has produced since then more than $600 million in gold alone.

That although dubbed by early critics by such names as "Seward's Folly," "Icebergia," "Polaria," and "Walrusia," the Eskimo meaning of Alaska is "The Great Land."

That Alaska's land area is 90 times that of Hawaii and one fifth that of the continental U.S.

That air-minded Alaska has a private plane for every 165 persons, a higher ratio than in any state.

That military expenditures in this northern barrier against Russia have exceeded $1 billion since 1940.

That Alaskan citizens claim they pay the highest per capita federal tax under the American flag, but can't vote in U. S. presidential elections, nor do they have voting representation in Congress.

That the climate of Ketchikan in southern Alaska is much like that of Seattle. Temperatures in Anchorage go over 85 degrees in summer and are not much colder in winter than parts of the Rocky Mountain states.

That the rich earth and 24-hour summer sunlight in Matanuska Valley, near Anchorage grow 60-pound cabbages and strawberries as big as your fist.

That the world's largest caribou animals, the Kodiak brown bear and giant Polar bear, are found there. They weigh up to a ton, measure 12 feet from snout to stubble-tail.

That the Navy petroleum reserves at Point Barrow on the ocean are among the richest undeveloped fields in the Western Hemisphere. More than five million acres south of the Arctic circle are under lease to American oil companies.

That jaywalking moose, wolves and deep snow are a problem on the Alaska railroad. Although electric shockers have been installed on the engines, 35 moose were run down on one trip from Fairbanks to Seward. The moose who die pedestrian deaths are contributed to hospitals.

That a heavy sleeper, who really wants to get away from liquor can't do better than to move to Kotzebue, an Eskimo village on the Bering Sea, where the nights are six months long, there are four churches and the nearest bar is 100 miles away.

That the 1867 treaty with Russia provided Alaska's inhabitants would be "admitted to the enjoyment of all the rights, advantages and immunities of citizens of the United States," but 90 years later Alaskans are still fighting to obtain many of those promised rights.

About Various Authorities

Like all institutions, the public authority is a device of government which has some excellent features but which occasionally requires renewed study. The authority makes it possible for governments to organize self-liquidating businesses, such as toll bridges, toll roads, toll tunnels, which can be privately financed and managed efficiently without politics.

The authority becomes a menace when it rejects the concept of self-liquidation but instead it amasses its surpluses until it is able to undertake all sorts of projects, some of them of doubtful validity. It also becomes a menace when it arranges for charters which are so broad that the authority arrogantly rejects any review of its conduct by courts and places itself altogether beyond the law, acting arbitrarily in all matters.

The state of New York has made a study of the public authority through the temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities — a very long name which ought to be more accurately descriptive of what the commission actually does. As this state has created more than 100 public authorities, they are important and this seems to be a very thorough study of the subject. While it is not possible to lump all authorities under one rule or one criticism because each is different, it is possible to recognize that the time has come to find a common denominator so that they perform their functions solely to the advantage of the citizen.

The first authority developed in this region is Port of New York Authority which came into existence in 1921 to solve the problems of this port which includes two states, New York and New Jersey. It would be impossible to say that the Port of New York Authority has not done constructive work in the reorganization of the railroad terminal system, the building of bridges and tunnels, and the development of the airports in this area. But it is not a popular body because it is arrogant and difficult to do business with except on its own terms.

One of the outstanding advantages of the Authority is that it is possible to finance improvements without increasing taxes. By the use of the toll and other fees, the Authority finances itself, getting its revenue from users and not from the general public. Its tolls also provide the means for amortizing the indebtedness of the authority. However, in theory the authority should reduce its tolls and fees whenever it can afford to. The assumption that the users would benefit by having the tolls reduced has been ignored. The report asks:

"... Just what direct benefit the automobile drivers on the Port of New York Authority's George Washington bridge obtain from the improvement of this Authority's Newark docks is not apparent. Unquestionably the driver does benefit from the bridge and its approaches and from the integrated program of highway and crossing development sponsored and carried forward by the Port of New York Authority. However, his benefit from Newark docks is only that which any taxpayer generally received from government public works of this sort."

In a word, the toll becomes a tax on the use of the facilities and this was never intended. There surely ought to be a provision for the reduction of tolls in the interest of the users in some ratio to the amortization of the indebtedness.

The principal objection to the authorities is that some of their charges place them above the law, subject to no judicial review of their conduct. They are controlled by administrative law which can be arbitrary and is particularly dangerous without judicial review. The Port of New York Authority maintains its own police force which is undoubtedly necessary because of the two-state jurisdiction of this body.

The authority seems to be a workable intermediate device between government-ownership and private-ownership. On the whole it is doing well and while an effort might be made to have all the laws and regulations uniform, it does not seem logical that that should be so because of the different purposes of each authority, the varieties of geographical location and the fact that an authority may overlap two states or even two countries, as let us say, in relationship to Canada.

An Organization To "Put on the Brakes"

There are several organizations putting forth some valiant efforts to put a stop to what they call "wild-cat spending" by federal government and in some cases by state and local government as well.

One of the most recent of these is one named the "Campaign for the 48 States", which is one among such organizations, that seems to have intelligent and reasonably conservative leadership and apparently is beginning to claim considerable public attention.

Organized less than two years ago by a group of individuals who declared themselves concerned with this country's drift toward serious financial trouble and socialization, it declares itself to be entirely non-partisan and non-political; it has a definite program and definite objectives.

This organization comes by its name because it is particularly campaigning of five constitutional amendments through action of the 48 state legislatures.

The changes thus sought are:

(1) BYRD - BRIDGES AMENDMENT — To require annual budget balancing by limiting congressional expenditures in any fiscal year to the estimated receipts of the government for that fiscal year, except in times of dire emergency to be determined by a three-fourths vote of the Congress.

(2) REED - DIRKSEN AMENDMENT — To eliminate to some extent the heavy progressive rate feature from our income tax system without impairing the power of Congress to raise revenue. This amendment limits the top rate of income taxes, but permits Congress to exceed the limit by a three-fourths vote. It also returns to the individual states the sole right to tax inheritances and gifts.

(3) MUNDT - COUDERT AMENDMENT — To reform the electoral college by choosing electors by Congressional districts plus two at large to correspond with each State's two U. S. Senators. This is designed to take away the excessive power now exercised by minority groups in the larger cities under the present electoral college system.

(4) REED - WALTER AMENDMENT — To give to 36 States (three-fourths) full power to amend the Constitution without the intervention of Congress.

(5) BRICKER AMENDMENT — To prevent the overriding of our Constitution and our domestic laws by means of the treaty power.

There is nothing about these five amendments that is unreasonable or impractical. They are not reactionary — they deal with the realities of today and the future and if enacted will go far toward making America safe for tomorrow.

While the "Campaign for the 48 States" is seeking direct action by the Congress, its main effort is being directed to the State legislatures, 41 of which are in session now and five more later on this year. Five television films, each one dramatizing the need for one of the desired amendments, have been prepared and have been made available to television stations, which as a public service are carrying them free of charge.

The organization has as its chairman and guiding genius, Robert B. Snowden, a successful and prominent business man of Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. Snowden points to the recent "hair-curling" statement of Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey as he issued a warning about a requested record peacetime budget of $71 billion. Said Mr. Snowden:

"We believe that our Campaign for the 48 States offers the best means of putting on the brakes on our nation's drift over the past years toward bankruptcy. Our program is gaining support and followers every day because it makes sense — it simply seeks a return to sanity and financial stability in the operation of our federal government. Our system of government in Washington has gotten out of hand for some time and it is never going to regulate itself until the States force it to do so. That is the sole aim of our organization — to gain constitutional reform by action of the State legislatures."

Facts about Seward's Folly

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that Alaska is not only twice the size of Texas but also has an ice cube larger than Rhode Island?

The bulk of ice is the Malaspina Glacier near Cordova. Alaskans are making a mighty pitch this year to get their territory admitted as the 49th member of the United States.

Here are a few things they think you should know about what they feel is "The land America has forgotten":

That Alaska, whose population increased from 72,524 in 1940 to more than 209,000 today, is growing faster than any state in the Union percentage-wise.

That white settlers from the 48 states outnumber the Eskimos and other native tribes by eight to one.

That Alaska, purchased from Russia for $7.2 million in 1867, has produced since then more than $600 million in gold alone.

That although dubbed by early critics by such names as "Seward's Folly," "Icebergia," "Polaria," and "Walrusia," the Eskimo meaning of Alaska is "The Great Land."

That Alaska's land area is 90 times that of Hawaii and one

fifth that of the continental U.S.

That air-minded Alaska has a private plane for every 165 persons, a higher ratio than in any state.

That military expenditures in this northern barrier against Russia have exceeded $1 billion since 1940.

That Alaska citizens claim they pay the highest per capita federal tax under the American flag, but can't vote in U. S. presidential elections, nor do they have voting representation in Congress.

That the climate of Ketchikan in southern Alaska is much like that of Seattle. Temperatures in Anchorage go over 85 degrees in summer and are not much colder in winter than parts of the Rocky Mountain states.

That the rich earth and 24-hour summer sunlight in Matanuska Valley, near Anchorage, grow 60-pound cabbages and strawberries as big as your fist.

That the world's largest carnivorous animals, the Kodiak brown bear and giant Polar bear, are found there. They weigh up to a ton, measure 12 feet from snout to stubble-tail. That the Navy petroleum reserves at Point Barrow on the ocean are among the richest undeveloped fields in the Western Hemisphere. More than five million acres south of the Arctic circle are under lease to American oil companies.

That jaywalking moose, wolves and deep snow are a problem on the Alaska railroad. Although electric shockers have been installed on the engines, 35 moose were run down on one trip from Fairbanks to Seward. The moose who die pedestrian deaths are contributed to hospitals.

That a heavy sleeper, who really wants to get away from liquor can't do better than to move to Kotzebue, an Eskimo village on the Bering Sea, where the nights are six months long, there are four churches and the nearest bar is 100 miles away.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You
HERE'S MY 10%
Now come on Mister... Don't Try to 'Tip' God. That is only your tithe. Jesus put it very plain to those who fail to give back a tenth. He called them robbers and made it stick. What manner of man is he who will accept the Lord's proffer and (it all belongs to God) then fail to give back a tenth of his profit? Sir, "The tenth is Holy unto the Lord," Lev. 27:32. Tithing is God's invitation to form a partnership with the only corporation that can't go broke. If you are in the oil business; if you are a man of industry; if you are a financier, and not full partners with God... beware of the crash!!! You can't win when you cheat God. His collection plans are many and make no mistake, He'll collect from you. Go to church and 'turn in' your tithe, for "Those who withhold more than is right will come to poverty," Prov. 11:24.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

Now come on Mister... Don't Try to 'Tip' God. That is only your tithe. Jesus put it very plain to those who fail to give back a tenth. He called them robbers and made it stick. What manner of man is he who will accept the Lord's proffer and (it all belongs to God) then fail to give back a tenth of his profit? Sir, "The tenth is Holy unto the Lord," Lev. 27:32. Tithing is God's invitation to form a partnership with the only corporation that can't go broke. If you are in the oil business; if you are a man of industry; if you are a financier, and not full partners with God... beware of the crash!!! You can't win when you cheat God. His collection plans are many and make no mistake, He'll collect from you. Go to church and 'turn in' your tithe, for "Those who withhold more than is right will come to poverty," Prov. 11:24.

Canine Cops Crack
Crucial Case

BALTIMORE — Baltimore's squad of eight canine cops has been particularly helpful in coping with mob scenes.

Police sent to a pool hall recently took the dogs with them and moved in on the crowd milling around in front. One man shinned 14 feet up a drain pipe and another scaled a cigarette machine and perched on top.

LIFE'S GRADUATION

Last year we outlined the origin of Mother's Day and the Christmas Tree. Possibly you may be interested in a concept for the use of flowers at funerals. We quote excerpts from an essay by Dr. George W. Crane written under the above title.

"Many people in modern America have urged the omission of flowers from funerals, thinking to salvage such money for charity, but it is possible to destroy the idealism of a beautiful graduation ceremony by stripping it of the flowers that surround our final farewell."

"Death is a graduation ceremony as we leave this classroom called Earth and go onward to a higher classroom in God's Cosmic School System. And graduations are supposed to be colorful affairs. When your daughter graduates from high school, you generally outfit her beautifully and see that she has a corsage.

"Maybe you parents shed a few tears as you realize she is moving onward to a distant college campus and thus will be leaving you more or less permanently. So you try to make her graduation as beautiful and happy an event as possible. Well, why not do the same when she leaves this earthly classroom?

"The flowers are intended primarily for the living relatives, anyway. They indicate the love and affection of friends and neighbors. So they exert a positive psychological influence in buoying up the spirits of those who are in grief."

"So don't strip flowers from funerals."

The complete text of Dr. Crane's article will be mailed you on request.

The food was prepared and served by Mrs. Harry Schlichter, Mrs. Nellie Hynes and Mrs. Kathryn Fuhs, and Mr. Jack Cabbage acted as chairman of the entire event, assisted by Mr. Robert Haines and Mr. Harold Sprague.

Tables were decorated with lovely bouquets of winter flowers and each of the women attending were presented a pink carnation.

Following the delicious meal, the business session was called to order by the president, Mr. Harry Campbell and the entire group sang two hymns accompanied at the piano by Mrs. F. G. Maurer. Two new projects were considered and discussed by members and it was announced that the next meeting, the first Sunday in April, will be preceded by a pot-luck supper. The event will take place in the church basement and hosts and hostesses for the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sprague and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines.

Group singing of another hymn closed the business session and the program followed in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell. Two clever contests provided much merriment for the members and prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garringer, Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Robert Haines and Mr. Dean Trimmer. Mrs. Maurer closed the program with a prayer.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Orley Varney, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Donohoe, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Trimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cabbage, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Breakfield, Rev. and Mrs. F. Mrs Thomas Entertains Members Of The Marilee Garden Club

Marilee Garden Club members met at home of Mrs. Clarence Thomas for the February meeting and president Mrs. Wash Lough, opened the session by reading a poem "February Promises."

Mrs. O. E. Harper read the minutes and reported on the finances of the club and the vice president, Mrs. Frank Lanum gave a report of the Presidents Council meeting of the Fayette County Garden Clubs. She gave in detail the schedule of the Spring Flower Show to be held at the Fayette Grange Hall, the date to be announced later. The theme to be used is entitled "Video Interpretation," and the Niche "Promise of Spring."

Mrs. Lanum also announced the open meeting of the Fayette Garden Club, March 15 in Fellowship Hall, Grace Methodist Church. Mrs. Everett Rife announced the Twin Oaks Club would have their benefit card party at Wayne Hall, March 13, at eight o'clock. Mrs. Lough was appointed to contact Mr. Meriweather about caring for and properly treating the shrubbery at the cemetery.

Club members voted to have a shadow box made and placed in Wayne Hall. Ten members answered roll call by naming their favorite garden flower.

The program topic, "What To Choose For Your Backyard Flower Garden," was discussed by Mrs. Lough and she first told of her choice which is lilacs, forsythia and other shrubs, several iris, tulips and peonies, with day lilies planted under her large tree and then she would add roses among these especially the old fashioned single one, adding annuals of all kinds with geraniums and mums, to bloom in the fall.

Mrs. Lough closed by stating this was her choice and each one should plant to suit the individual and the location.

The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed with Mrs. Lough telling of her Caribbean cruise and her trip to Mexico. She showed several pictures and told of the beautiful flowers in Mexico. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. John Rowland.

Canine Cops Crack Crucial Case

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore's squad of eight canine cops has been particularly helpful in coping with mob scenes.

Police sent to a pool hall recently took the dogs with them and moved in on the crowd milling around in front. One man shinned 14 feet up a drain pipe and another scaled a cigarette machine and perched on top.

LIFE'S GRADUATION

Last year we outlined the origin of Mother's Day and the Christmas Tree. Possibly you may be interested in a concept for the use of flowers at funerals. We quote excerpts from an essay by Dr. George W. Crane written under the above title.

"Many people in modern America have urged the omission of flowers from funerals, thinking to salvage such money for charity, but it is possible to destroy the idealism of a beautiful graduation ceremony by stripping it of the flowers that surround our final farewell."

"Death is a graduation ceremony as we leave this classroom called Earth and go onward to a higher classroom in God's Cosmic School System. And graduations are supposed to be colorful affairs. When your daughter graduates from high school, you generally outfit her beautifully and see that she has a corsage.

"Maybe you parents shed a few tears as you realize she is moving onward to a distant college campus and thus will be leaving you more or less permanently. So you try to make her graduation as beautiful and happy an event as possible. Well, why not do the same when she leaves this earthly classroom?

"The flowers are intended primarily for the living relatives, anyway. They indicate the love and affection of friends and neighbors. So they exert a positive psychological influence in buoying up the spirits of those who are in grief."

"So don't strip flowers from funerals."

The complete text of Dr. Crane's article will be mailed you on request.

Bloomington Wins Cage Tourney Los Angeles Slated for Big League Team

The Bulldogs, playing their best in the blue-chip ball game, had hardly missed a shot all evening. They had a foul line tally of 20 out of 25, and their field goal average was almost as good.

So Coach Rudolph, at the last ditch, attempted a risky but enormously alluring gamble.

He had his team take the ball and hold onto it for about 90 seconds of the two-minute overtime.

Back and forth, the five boys tossed the ball. Jeff defense men tried to get it, and once they almost did. But "almost" didn't help, and, with seconds left to go, Bloomington gave the honors to Welsh.

Playing far from the basket—just a few feet from his own bench—Welsh moved in, watched the clock and shot.

Rudolph's gamble paid off. Welsh made his basket and the gun went off as Jeff had the ball about halfway back down the floor.

Pandemonium broke loose then, and it took a few extra blimps on the timer's horn to still the bedlam for awards presentation 15 minutes later.

Welsh was also high scorer for Bloomington with 20 points. Gary McConaughy was second with 15. Roger Mason took honors for Jeff with 14.

The Madison Mills cagers fooled the fans and the opposition—and perhaps themselves—in both of the preliminary games. Starting slow in each game, lagging at the half, the reserves and the juniors both came through to take home tournament laurels.

Bloomington held the edge during most of the first half of the junior game, with Madison Mills tagging fairly close behind.

But in the second half, the junior Warriors opened up with all they had and ended up trampling Bloomington in a 31-21 rampage.

No fewer than 14 of those points came in the final period.

Larry Ford was high scorer for Madison in that game, with 15 points. Larry Ayers was high for Bloomington with nine.

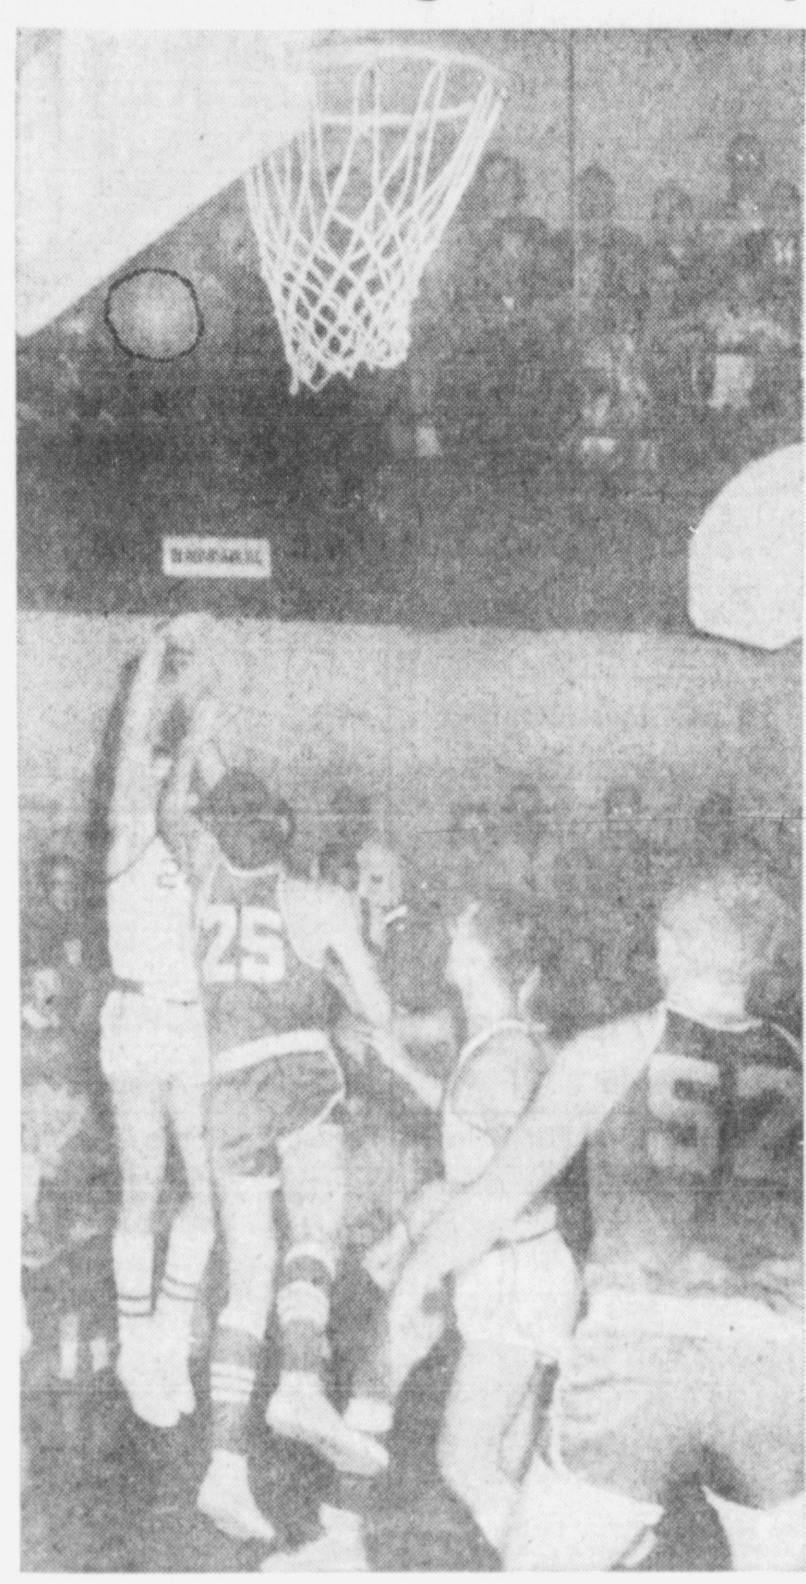

Table with 4 columns: Player, G, F, T. Rows for Bloomington Jr. High and Madison Jr. High.

WHATEVER it was that got the Madison juniors off to such a slow start, the same thing got hold of the reserves.

The Madison extras trailed Bloomington at the quarter, at the half and at the three-quarter post. Only in the last lap did they leap out in front and sew up the championship with a 47-43 victory.

Bloomington's Don Hidy, who scored four points in the varsity game, scored close to half the points for the Bulldog reserves single handedly. He ran up a total of 20 points for the losers in their cause.

Table with 4 columns: Player, G, F, T. Rows for Bloomington Reserve and Madison Reserve.

SHARP SHOOTING from far out gave the victory to the Bloomington varsity in the tournament main event Thursday night. Bloomington's hoopsters hit terrific shooting percentages in the see-saw battle. Above, Jerry McCoy (white jersey) goes up from the far corner and plants one despite defensive efforts of Leroy Snyder (25). Standing by in the foreground is Jeff's Alva Hanners, (52).

Hegan Assigned As Tribe Coach

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—The Cleveland Indians' top catcher, Jim Hegan, has been designated player-coach by manager Kerby Farrell. Hegan has been placed in charge of catchers, may well be grooming his own successor.

According to Hank Greenberg, club general manager, the appointment may be the first step toward a permanent coaching job.

The first ball of the Tribe's training season was thrown out today, in an intrasquad game played by rookies who were called to camp early.

The regular training season gets underway March 1.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (P)—Los Angeles will have major league baseball "no later than 1960," says Brooklyn Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley, one of baseball's better poker players currently dueling with the New York civic officialdom.

The pot: a new stadium in Flatbush for the National League champions.

O'Malley predicted big league ball — not necessarily Dodger variety — for Los Angeles after Thursday's announcement of Brooklyn's purchase from the Chicago Cubs of the Los Angeles ball park and franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

O'Malley said the Dodgers presently plan to operate the Los Angeles team in the PCL. But he indicated again that the Dodgers may move out of Brooklyn.

"The Dodgers will play in a

Hammond, in top position for the second week in a row, was closely pursued by Florindo "Porky" Vieira, the 5-6 deadeye from Quinnipiac College, averaging 35.1.

Indiana Seeking To Retain Lead

CHICAGO (P)—Indiana will seek to strengthen its hold on the lead in the tight Big Ten basketball race in two games this weekend.

The Hoosiers (8-2) travel to Madison Saturday night to tackle the Wisconsin Badgers (1-8), and on Monday night must battle Michigan, which has a 5-5 record.

Ohio State meanwhile will entertain Michigan Saturday night and will seek revenge Monday night against Illinois (5-5), which beat the Buckeyes on the flint home floor previously, 96-89.

Michigan State's Spartans, whose upsurge has them tied for second with Ohio State at 7-3, will be host to Minnesota.

new park in 1930," he said, adding, "If not Brooklyn, then somewhere else."

The complicated deal whereby the Dodgers kicked wide the door to westward expansion of major league baseball worked this way: Brooklyn bought the Los Angeles ball park and franchise.

The Cubs received the Dodgers' Fort Worth franchise in the Texas League, but not the park or real estate. The Cubs will lease Fort Worth's LaGrave Field from Marvin Krutter, the real estate who recently bought Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers will end their limited working agreement with Portland in the PCL, and Chicago may assume that agreement, said Cub President Philip K. Wrigley.

Financial features of the wide-ranging deal were not disclosed. The transaction followed the Dodgers' recent sale of their Ebbets Field home, their Montreal (International League) and Fort Worth property for about $4,000,000.

O'Malley explained that the conversion of property into cash gave the Dodgers funds for their share of the 7½ million dollars needed to build a new stadium in Brooklyn.

The Dodgers have long been unhappy with cramped Ebbets Field and last season played seven home games in Jersey City, N. J., following sale of the field, the Dodgers leased the property for three years and must move out by 1960. However, even if the Dodgers want to move their franchise to Los Angeles, they couldn't do so immediately. According to baseball law, minor league territory can't be drafted only between Oct. 1 and Dec. 1.

Civic leaders alarmed at the prospect of losing the Dodgers, began to move last year. Brooklyn Sports Center Authority was appointed by the state. But the New York City Board of Estimate allotted only $25,000 to the authority for a study of the proposed new center. The authority had asked for $280,000.

O'Malley recently said he would wait just six months to see if the Dodgers were going to get a new stadium in Brooklyn, "then I will have to make other arrangements."

Is he bluffing? O'Malley says no. "Perhaps," said O'Malley, "people who accused me of bluffing will now realize I was taking logical steps. I never was bluffing nor would I like to hear it said I am using a big club (on the city of New York). I used every soap box I could find to shout and tell the people of Brooklyn that

New Financial Plan Slated For Approval by Big Ten

CINCINNATI (P)—Approval of a new financial aid to athletes plan was expected today as faculty representatives of Big Ten universities met for a vote.

At least six Big Ten schools — Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Purdue and Wisconsin — have indicated they will vote affirmatively. Iowa, Minnesota and Ohio State are expected to oppose the plan. Northwestern has not announced its intentions.

Although a last minute vote switch was possible, passage seemed assured.

The plan awards financial aid to an athlete strictly on proven need. An athlete's parents must file a financial statement with the conference. This will be studied by an impartial agency to determine the need, or how much financial assistance the athlete would require to go to college.

The maximum grant — aid, or work-aid, or a combination would be the amount needed to provide an athlete with room, board, books, tuition and fees, these vary with the schools and range from about $1,000 to $1,800 annually.

The plan also would include limitation to 100 grants by each school; limiting the time a school could make "tenders" of aid to prospective athletes and the time during which the athlete could accept.

Ebbets Field was antiquated and something had to be done."

New York officials were quick to proclaim their loyalty to the Dodgers. Said William R. Peer, executive secretary to Mayor Wagner: "We do not want to lose any of our baseball clubs. We will do everything we can to keep them here (New York)."

quick pass at the basket — a missed. Now it was the Bulldog's turn, and they were under special orders from Coach Everett Rudolph.

The Bulldogs, playing their best in the blue-chip ball game, had hardly missed a shot all evening. They had a foul line tally of 20 out of 25, and their field goal average was almost as good.

So Coach Rudolph, at the last ditch, attempted a risky but enormously alluring gamble.

He had his team take the ball and hold onto it for about 90 seconds of the two-minute overtime.

Back and forth, the five boys tossed the ball. Jeff defense men tried to get it, and once they almost did. But "almost" didn't help, and, with seconds left to go, Bloomington gave the honors to Welsh.

Playing far from the basket—just a few feet from his own bench—Welsh moved in, watched the clock and shot.

Rudolph's gamble paid off. Welsh made his basket and the gun went off as Jeff had the ball about halfway back down the floor.

Pandemonium broke loose then, and it took a few extra blarps on the timer's horn to still the bedlam for awards presentation 15 minutes later.

Welsh was also high scorer for Bloomington with 20 points. Gary McConaughy was second with 15. Roger Mason took honors for Jeff with 14.

The Madison Mills cagers fooled the fans and the opposition—and perhaps themselves—in both of the preliminary games. Starting slow in each game, lagging at the half, the reserves and the juniors both came through to take home tournament laurels.

Bloomington held the edge during most of the first half of the junior game, with Madison Mills tagging fairly close behind.

But in the second half, the junior Warriors opened up with all they had and ended up trampling Bloomington in a 31-21 rampage. No fewer than 14 of those points came in the final period.

Larry Ford was high scorer for Madison in that game, with 15 points. Larry Ayers was high for Bloomington with nine.

WHATEVER it was that got the Madison juniors off to such a slow start, the same thing got hold of the reserves.

The Madison extras trailed Bloomington at the quarter, at the half and at the three-quarter post. Only in the last lap did they leap out in front and sew up the championship with a 47-43 victory.

Bloomington's Don Hidy, who scored four points in the varsity game, scored close to half the points for the Bulldog reserves single handedly. He ran up a total of 20 points for the losers in their cause.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (U)—Los Angeles will have major league baseball "no later than 1960." So says Brooklyn Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley, one of baseball's better poker players currently dueling with the New York civic officialdom.

The pot: a new stadium in Flatbush for the National League champions.

O'Malley predicted big league ball — not necessarily Dodger variety — for Los Angeles after Thursday's announcement of Brooklyn's purchase from the Chicago Cubs of the Los Angeles ball park and franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

O'Malley said the Dodgers presently plan to operate the Los Angeles team in the PCL. But he indicated again that the Dodgers may move out of Brooklyn.

"The Dodgers will play in a

West Virginian Leading Scorers

NEW YORK (U)—Ken Hammond, the big wheel in West Virginia Tech's point making machine, led all small college basketball scorers today with 35.5 points per game.

Hammond, in top position for the second week in a row, was closely pursued by Florindo "Porky" Vieira, the 5-6 deadeye from Quinnipiac College, averaging 35.1.

Trailing Hammond and Vieira Mary's 32.3; Joe Wallace, King's, Pa., 31.2, and Joe Miller, Alderson-Broadbush, 27.4.

Indiana Seeking To Retain Lead

CHICAGO (U)—Indiana will seek to strengthen its hold on the lead in the tight Big Ten basketball race in two games this weekend.

The Hoosiers (8-2) travel to Madison Saturday night to tackle the Wisconsin Badgers (1-8), and on Monday night must battle Michigan, which has a 5-5 record. Ohio State, meanwhile will entertain Michigan Saturday night and will seek revenge Monday night against Illinois (5-5), which beat the Buckeyes on the Illini home floor previously, 96-89.

Michigan State's Spartans, whose upsurge has them tied for second with Ohio State at 7-3, will be host to Minnesota.

Worth's LaGrave Field from Marvin Kratter, the real estate who recently bought Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers will end their limited working agreement with Portland in the PCL, and Chicago may assume that agreement, said Cub President Philip K. Wrigley.

Financial terms of the wide-ranging deal were not disclosed. The transaction followed the Dodgers' recent sale of their Ebbets Field home, their Montreal (International League) and Fort Worth property for about $4,000,000.

O'Malley explained that the conversion of property into cash gave the Dodgers funds for their share of the 7½ million dollars needed to build a new stadium in Brooklyn.

The Dodgers have long been unhappy with cramped Ebbets Field and last season played seven home games in Jersey City, N. J. following sale of the field, the Dodgers leased the property for three years and must move out by 1960. However, even if the Dodgers want to move their franchise to Los Angeles, they couldn't do so immediately. According to baseball law, minor league territory can't be drafted only between Oct. 1 and Dec. 1.

Civic leaders alarmed at the prospect of losing the Dodgers, began to move last year. Brooklyn Sports Center Authority was appointed by the state. But the New York City Board of Estimate allotted only $25,000 to the authority for a study of the proposed new center. The authority had asked for $280,000.

O'Malley recently said he would wait just six months to see if the Dodgers were going to get a new stadium in Brooklyn. "then I will have to make other arrangements."

Is he bluffing? O'Malley says no. "Perhaps," said O'Malley, "people who accused me of bluffing will now realize I was taking logical steps. I never was bluffing nor would I like to hear it said I am using a big club (on the city of New York). I used every soap box I could find to shout and tell the people of Brooklyn that

New Financial Plan Slated For Approval by Big Ten

COLUMBIA, Mo. (U)—Approval of a new financial aid to athletes plan was expected today as faculty representatives of Big Ten universities met for a vote.

At least six Big Ten schools — Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Purdue and Wisconsin — have indicated they will vote affirmatively. Iowa, Minnesota and Ohio State are expected to oppose the plan. Northwestern has not announced its intentions.

Although a last minute vote switch was possible, passage seemed assured.

The plan awards financial aid to an athlete strictly on proven merit. An athlete's parents must file a financial statement with the conference. This will be studied by an impartial agency to determine the need, or how much financial assistance the athlete would require to go to college.

The maximum grant — aid, or work-aid, or a combination would be the amount needed to provide an athlete with room, board, books, tuition and fees, these vary with the schools and range from about $1,000 to $1,800 annually.

The plan also would include limitation to 100 grants by each school; limiting the time a school could make "tenders" of aid to prospective athletes and the time during which the athlete could accept.

Ebbets Field was antiquated and something had to be done."

New York officials were quick to proclaim their loyalty to the Dodgers. Said William R. Peer, executive secretary to Mayor Wagner: "We do not want to lose any of our baseball clubs. We will do everything we can to keep them here (New York)."

cept; and provide the stiffest penalties in Big Ten history for violations.

If an athlete accepts a grant from one school, he never can be eligible for aid from another.

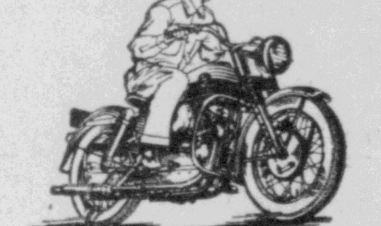

He would be ruled ineligible forever in the conference by accepting aid "under the table." A coach or staff member offering such aid would be discharged and barred from further employment in the conference.

A school failing to take these disciplinary measures would be ordered to show cause why it should not be suspended or expelled.

Part of the opposition to the plan is believed to stem from the requirement that parents of athletes must file a financial statement. Some educators believe this is an invasion of privacy.

Pupils Entertain Staunton PTO

Plans Completed
For Square Dance

Business had to share the spotlight with a program put on by the pupils at Thursday night's meeting of the Staunton Parent-Teacher Organization.

Most of the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. William Summers, was devoted to completing plans for the square dance the PTO is sponsoring to raise money to buy a freezer for the school.

The dance will be in the American Legion Hall, 212 N. Fayette St., on Saturday, March 9. It is to start at 9 p. m., with Harold Wilson's Band from Orient providing the music and the "caller," and continue until midnight.

Mrs. Ray Jennings, who has been coordinating the arrangements, made the announcement of the time and place and the completed plans.

Principal George Groh announced that the school has a typewriter for sale, now that the school board has purchased a new one.

THE ENTERTAINMENT was "A Mother Goose Valentine Party" given by the first and second grade pupils taught by Mrs. Marilyn Riley. All in costume to give their recitations of Mother Goose rhymes, sing songs and do dances as characters out of the stories were Karen Sue Carpenter, Elizabeth Sears, Donnie Palmer, Connie and Steven Summers, Gary Armbrust, Jane Ford, Bob Marting, Louis Hensley, Carolyn Putney, Greg Armbrust, Carolyn Hurler, Patrick Henry, David Newhouse, Benny Wallingford, Dennis Rolfe, Peggy Grooms, Larry Nunley, John Pero, Harold Hurler, Rita Ann Thomas, Jackie Wisecup and Jimmy Waddle.

The program was directed by Mrs. Helen Huff, the school music teacher, and Mrs. Riley. Costumes, some of them elaborate, were made by the mothers of the boys and girls.

The first and second grade room, naturally, won the parent attendance banner for this meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 21.

Organ Recitalist Praised by Dupre

Dr. Lawrence S. Frank of Westerville, who will present an organ recital at Grace Methodist Church Sunday at 3:30 p. m., under auspices of the Washington Organ Club, has studied under some of the foremost organists of the world, including Marcel Dupre, famous French organist in Paris.

Regarding Dr. Frank, Dupre states:

"He has proved most serious and earnest and done excellent work. His technique in organ is very good, clean and clear, and his interpretation of the works of the Masters shows his fine sense of music."

His program here is well chosen and the recital is open to the public.

Wheeler Sentenced To Reformatory

Charles Wheeler, who was placed on probation Oct. 19, after pleading guilty to breaking and entering the Washington Wrecking Yards office here, was Friday found guilty of violation of the provisions of his probation, and Judge William D. Radcliff of Pickaway County sentenced him to Manfield Reformatory for one to 15 years.

Wheeler was recently bound over to the grand jury in connection with a breaking and entering of a house at Milledgeville. This new case will come up at the next grand jury session.

A native of Jasper Township, she had spent most of her life in that community. The last member of the family of Elijah and Mahala Allen, she is survived only by nieces and nephews.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home, Jeffersonville, with the Rev. Robert Slomch, pastor of the Milledgeville Methodist Church, in charge. Burial will be in Milledgeville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Saturday.

Funeral Services Saturday for Two Fire Victims

Funeral services for two women who died early Thursday in a fire at 815 Maple St. will be held Saturday afternoon.

Rites for Mrs. Nellie Glasco, 76, will be at 1:30 p. m. in the Rogers A.M.E. Church, while services for Miss Laura Burns, 82, will be at 3:30 p. m. in the Gerstner Funeral Home.

The condition of a third woman, Mrs. Mary Ellen Lee, 78, who was taken to Memorial Hospital after inhaling smoke during the fire was reported as "pretty good" Friday morning by her physician.

THE TWO WOMEN lost their lives while attempting to extinguish flames at the home of Mrs. Glasco. Both were overcome by smoke and fumes.

Fire Chief George Hall said Friday that the fire was "definitely caused by the open-face coal heater in the living room." Hall said there was conclusive evidence that coals from the heater fell to the floor to start the blaze.

MRS. GLASCO was a native of Washington, C. H., and had lived here continuously for her last 20 years. Earlier she had resided in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Survivors include several nieces and nephews. Friends may call at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Friends of Miss Burns may call any time at the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Both services will be conducted by the Rev. Roli Canado of the Rogers Chapel.

Fire, possibly started by children, severely damaged a one-story frame garage off Short St. late Friday morning.

Flames consumed a shed room filled with furniture, part of the garage roof and portions of two walls before firemen could extinguish the blaze.

Firemen Maynard Denen and Marlin Overly were called to the scene about 11:20 a. m. The fire was out before noon.

Neighbors said that the garage was owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson, 514 East St. Mrs. Davidson, out of town at the time, could not be contacted.

John W. Phelps, 604 Broadway, reported the fire and told police later that he had been trimming shrubbery in back of his Broadway home when he spotted the blaze across the yard.

He told police he had seen children playing around the building several times during the morning. Youngsters at the scene said they had seen two children around the building earlier in the day.

Firemen said it seems "quite likely" the youngsters accidentally set the fire while at play.

Dr. Branch, chief of psychiatry at the University of Utah medical school, made his proposal Thursday at a professional clinic.

"It's an unpopular subject," he conceded, "but the plain fact is most women stand a very good chance of becoming widows and they have no training for it."

He suggested classes which would "broaden the approach to life . . . encourage an interest in anything . . . cultivate any asset."

New Rest Home Opened in City
